AS410

The AS410 is extra unique. Manufactured from fibreglass, it is flexible yet sturdy, and perfectly suited for producing music. Its slightly curved design and high-gloss black, white, orange or brown finish make it discreet yet also incredibly elegant. The specially designed driver unit ensures a clear, warm sound. This makes it suitable for use both as a standalone and in a home cinema set-up.

The AS410's unique design makes it a real eyecatcher. Just right for those looking for something different, without the need to sacrifice sound quality.
